

Turning Point Gratitude Project June 2 through August 1, 2015

The Turning Point Gratitude Project has been created for a number of reasons: to celebrate this beautiful community; to support human service organizations in the area through education in ecological design, workforce training, and home food production, and to raise awareness of the power of individual land owners to permanently change the vulnerability of the Whetstone Brook to stormwater runoff reducing damage from flooding. The result of our efforts will be an ecological (outdoor) living room for Turning Point with an edible landscape at 39 Elm Street in Brattleboro.

Individual Session Registration

This form is for those registering for the individual workshops being offered as part of our Permaculture Design Certification course. If you wish to register for the full course please complete the other form. Course workshops will take place during June and July 2015 with the Graduation Celebration taking place August 1st.

We welcome your participation in the Project! Please answer all questions below.

I will contact the instructor at least 24 hours before a session if not attending. I understand I will be responsible for getting myself to all locations. (Car-pooling is recommended, and every effort will be made to assist participants in arranging transportation.)  Yes  No
